So, just for interest, the worst performing team in the championship were Ukraine, with a miserable 0 points, with no goals and no draws.

Followed by Austria and Sweden on 4 each.

Best were Portugal, but just because of the points for being the winners. Wales were probably the surprise point-taking strong performers, and this is reflected in the competition, with both 1st and 2nd prize winners having them.

Iceland and Poland were also did well, with lots of wins and goals.

Ireland came through with a respectable 22 point total.

Antoine Griezmann topped the charts with 6 goals, followed by Morata, Giroud and Ronaldo with 3 goals each.

Robbie Brady was the only Irish goal scorer to register.
